AMAZING GRACE CONNECT GROUPS

Connect groups are a vital part of our ministry at Amazing Grace. For we want to do more than be a friendly church. We want to be a church of friends. Connect groups are where friendships are made.

Connect groups are the aspect of our ministry that is almost entirely led and conducted by the congregation. The pastor doesn't run the Connect groups. The pastor doesn't even plan the Connect groups. The pastors will provide a little training for Connect group leaders. But for the most part this is pure member ministry.

This pamphlet lays out our approach to Connect groups at Amazing Grace:

- What their purpose is
- What types of Connect groups we want to offer
- How they are scheduled
- How you can plan to host a Connect group

If you have any additional questions about Connect groups not covered in this pamphlet, please don't hesitate to contact the pastor of Amazing Grace.

WHAT IS A CONNECT GROUP

When you share your life with a community of fellow believers, we call that “fellowship.” St. John writes, “We proclaim to you what we have seen and heard, so that you also may have fellowship with us. And our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son, Jesus Christ.” (1 John 1:3). When believers are united to God, they are inevitably united to one another also.

This is necessary. God did not design human beings to face life on their own. Instead, he intended for believers to be woven together in a community so that they might encourage one another as together they walk the often difficult path of life. Consider these words of direction from the scripture, intended for all Christians.

- Be devoted to one another in love. – Romans 12:10
- Encourage one another and build each other up. – 1 Thessalonians 5:11
- Let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds. – Hebrews 10:24
- Offer hospitality to one another. – 1 Peter 4:9

Connect groups are the way Amazing Grace carries that out.

The purpose of our Connect groups is to knit Christians together in a community, that they might share their lives and have ways for Spirit-wrought fellowship to be celebrated.

THE THREE TYPES OF CONNECT GROUPS

Connect groups are not synonymous with Bible study. The main purpose of Bible-study is spiritual growth. The main purpose of Connect groups is to knit the people of Amazing Grace together so that they might share their lives as God's Word directs them to. Sharing of one's life can certainly happen in a Bible study. But it can happen in other ways as well. Thus, we have three types of Connect groups.

STUDY GROUPS

Study groups are comprised of Christians who want to gather for the spiritual Study produced by Bible study and devotion. They take St. Peter's words to heart. "Grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (2 Peter 3:18).

These Bible studies differ from Sunday morning Bible study. They are more discussion oriented. Study group members take portions of God's Word and apply them to their lives. There is a facilitator who keeps discussion moving and focused on the topic of the day.

Study groups are the only of the three types of Connect groups where the pastor helps the leaders prepare. If you would like to be a study group leader, the pastor will help you find appropriate and meaningful Bible study materials.

SERVICE GROUPS

Service groups are comprised of Christians who want to serve either Amazing Grace or the community in some way. They understand that Amazing Grace-wrought service gives a type of testimony, just as Jesus said. "Let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven" (Matthew 5:16). Service groups identify a way that they could serve the church in general, or serve specific people / groups within the church, or serve a segment of the community.

Some examples of service groups: a service group that meet at an assisted living center to socialize with the residents; a service group of young people that meet at elderly or sick member's home to do yard work; a service group that works at a local food pantry; a service group that maintains the church's buildings or grounds.

SOCIAL GROUPS

Social groups are comprised of Christians who want to gather for some recreational fellowship. They understand that just as God rested from his labor (Genesis 2:2), so also man will rest from time to time. We need to rest and recharge intellectually and emotionally, so that after that rest we might resume serving our God with vigor.

Examples of social groups; a social group that gets together to play golf once a month; a social group that discusses a book which the entire group has read; a social group that shops, or talks, or just gets together.

PLANNING AND PROMOTION

Each set of Connect groups is preceded by four weeks of planning.

For example, if you want to facilitate a Connect group for January, your work begins in December. You start planning out what type of Connect group it is, who it's for, how often it meets, where it meets, etc. You put this information on a Connect planning form, which you can find at www.amazinggracelutheran.com/connect

The information for your and all the Connect groups will be published, both in print and online. People will enroll by contacting you, the group facilitator.

PLANNING A CONNECT GROUP

If you want to form a Connect Group, here are the things you need to consider before we can promote it.

Are you going to facilitate a Study Group, a Service Group or a Social Group?

If you want to plan a service Group or a Social Group, you can plan that on your own. If it's a Study Group, (small group Bible Study), the pastor can help you locate good Bible study material.

How often is the Connect group going to meet?

Connect groups run approximately 12 to 13 weeks. We want Connect groups to meet a minimum of three times, i.e. monthly meetings. They could meet as much as weekly. You will need to list every meeting date and time on the Connect group form.

When is the Connect group going to meet?

Say you determine your Connect group is going to meet six times throughout the period. You now need to pick when that will be. Evenings or mornings? Weekend or weekday? It is entirely up to you. It is advisable to keep the day of the week and time consistent.

For how long will your Connect group meet when it assembles?

If it's a Social Group that is meeting for game night which begins at 7PM on Fridays, does that night end at 9PM or midnight? People need to know exactly what they are committing to.

Where is the Connect group going to meet?

Connect groups might meet at multiple locations. For example, a monthly golf Connect group might meet at three different courses. But many Connect groups, particular Study Groups, will meet in the same location each time. The ideal place is in your home. Studies of church small groups have consistently shown that if the goal of the group is to knit Christian's together in family, meeting in the facilitator's home is ideal. "Practice hospitality" (Romans 12:13).

Another possibility is to meet somewhere in the community. For example, A Study Group of six meeting at a coffee shop for Bible study can give public testimony to the community of the importance of being in the Word.

If meeting in-home or off-site is simply not feasible, it is possible to have a Connect group meet at church.

For whom is the Connect group intended?

There is nothing wrong with creating Connect groups for a certain demographic. Examples: a senior's Connect group that visits various historic sites, a women's Connect group book club, a single's Connect group. You limit the number of possible participants, but that's OK. Connect groups shouldn't be more than 12 people anyways.

What are the costs (or potential costs) of participation in the Connect group?

It is not wise for there to be surprise expenses for Connect group participants. Thus, if participants need to purchase materials, please list those costs on the Connect group planning form.

What is it called?

You need to come up with a name. The catchier, the better!

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

I've never run a small group. How will I know what to do?

We will provide you with brief training to help you plan for a Connect group. No matter what type of group you would run – Study, Service, or Social -- it's not hard!

Are Connect groups just for Amazing Grace members, or may non-members attend?

Of course non-members may attend! That would be encouraged. Our primary purpose is simply to knit people together into a true Christian family. But by all means, invite un-churched friends and family.

Why don't Connect groups run all year round? Why break them up into shorter time commitments?

There are three compelling reasons to break groups up that are provided by most experts on running small groups in the church.

1. Without a definite begin date, people assume they are “jumping in the middle” of something, even if you tell them it’s a week-by-week Bible study. People don’t want to jump into the middle of something.
2. Without a definite end date, people assume they are supposed to continue in the group indefinitely. People tend to not commit to something that is open ended.
3. If people stay in classes that go on indefinitely, they only get to know those who are in their group. If the primary purpose of Connect groups is to knit together a body of believers, having individuals stay in a group with the same people indefinitely goes counter to that purpose.

The same Connect group may be scheduled every time we offer them. But it will be promoted as a new and separate Connect group for the reasons listed above.

What if I plan to host a Connect group and no one signs up?

Small group experts will tell you that it is likely to happen every time a church begins a Connect group series. At least one “fizzles.” Some thoughts on this;

First of all, be careful how you define “no one.” If you have one person sign up, you have a group. Those same small group experts will tell you that meeting in a group of two or three is a very powerful way for Christians to grow together.

Secondly, if zero sign up, realize it demonstrates either a lack of interest in your suggested topic or that your topic was of lower interest than the others promoted that period. It’s not a lack of interest in you! Everyone who hosts a Connect group will find out that, from time to time, one of their Connect groups generates no interest. So give it a try! Don’t be afraid.
